Dear Mr Summer,

ICM Corp is a quality manufacturer of compression tools and connectors for the security, broadcast, home entertainment, commercial and government industries. As a distributor of ICM products Electrospec represents and can directly sell our products into any of your customers.

Please feel free to contact ICM is you have any questions about our products or their application. We have a number of cable cross reference and sizing charts available to make sure your customers are purchasing the right connectors for the cables they are using. These can be accessed on our website www.icmcorp.com.

Thanks for your interest in ICM products.

Sincerely,

Tim Root
